Hactl welcomes Jet Airways to Hong Kong

(14 April 2008, Hong Kong :) Hong Kong Air Cargo Terminals Limited (Hactl) is pleased to welcome Jet Airways as its new customer. The carrier launched its inaugural flight to Hong Kong today, starting its daily passenger service between Mumbai and Hong Kong.

Hactl has been appointed by Jet Airways to be its air cargo terminal operator at Hong Kong International Airport, providing physical cargo handling and air cargo documentation handling for its belly-hold cargo.

Ms. Lilian Chan, General Manager, Marketing and Customer Service of Hactl said, "We are very pleased to extend our warmest welcome to Jet Airways as our new customer. The Indian market is one with huge potential for both passenger and cargo business, and we congratulate the carrier on its inaugural service launch to Hong Kong. Hactl has the recognised market expertise and dedication to support our customers, and we are confident that Hactl will continue to provide high level of efficient, reliable, and customised cargo handling solutions, enabling Jet Airways to meet future challenges in the air cargo market."

Mr. Koh Kay Yew, Regional Manager, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan & Korea of, Jet Airways said, "We are very happy to partner with Hactl in our new services to Hong Kong. Hactl is chosen as our business partner as it is renowned for its quality service standard and customer service. At this time when operations in the aviation world have become more and more competitive, it is important that we choose the right partner that can support our upcoming growth and share the same vision with us. I can see Hactl and Jet Airways working seamlessly in growing our long-term and successful business partnership, and look forward to further increasing our flight frequency to Hong Kong very soon."
